The Chief Justice said:

“Before we hear the first argument this morning, we would like to take note for the permanent journal and records of the Court of an important event in the history of the Court.

“One week ago today, on October 29th, Mr. Justice Douglas established a new longevity record for service on The Supreme Court of the United States: thirty-four years, one hundred and ninety-six days, as of that day.

“His tenure as a Justice of this Court now exceeds that of Mr. Justice Stephen Field, who was appointed by President Lincoln, took his oath of office in 1863, on May 20th, and remained on the Court until December 1, 1897.

“I know I speak for all the members of the Court, and for the retired and former members of the Court, when we take this occasion to wish our Brother Douglas continued good health and long life and to record our congratulations on the new record which he has established and will proceed to break every day when he arrives at the Court in the morning.”

OPINION

No. 72-914. Sarah Scheuer, Administratrix, etc., petitioner, v. James Rhodes et al.; and

No. 72-1318. Arthur Krause, Administrator of the Estate of Allison Krause, et al., petitioners, v. James Rhodes et al. On writs of certiorari to the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit. Judgment reversed and cases remanded to the Court of Appeals for further proceedings in conformity with the opinion of this Court. Opinion by Mr. Chief Justice Burger. Mr. Justice Douglas took no part in the decision of this case.

The Chief Justice said:

“Before we proceed with the arguments that we interrupted at the close of the session yesterday, I would like to make a very brief statement.

“Today marks an event in the history of this Court that has never occurred before, and may never occur again.

“It is also a milestone in the unique judicial career of Mr. Justice Douglas, who, on October 29, 1973, established a record of the longest service of any one of the one hundred Justices who have served on this Court, in the one hundred and eighty-four years since the Court first sat on February 2, 1790.

"It was precisely thirty-five years ago today that Mr. Justice Douglas took his seat on this Court.

"A great many people exceed the Biblical three-score-and-ten and go on to eighties and the nineties and even beyond that. but few of them do so with the remarkable vigor and the full zest for life that Justice Douglas exhibits. His curiosity and concern about the world we live in and all that is in it and his search to satisfy that curiosity seems to increase with each passing year.

"This week he publishes his seventeenth book, an account of his early years in Minnesota, in the State of Washington, then back east to New York, and later at New Haven, and then in Washington, where he came to spend four or five months and has remained forty years.

"Anyone who thinks Justice Douglas is nearing the end of his career overlooks the reality of his life and his temperament. There are many more mountains to climb, mountains of the Law, mountains of life and of nature, and that will always be his pursuit.

"On October 29 last year, when Justice Douglas surpassed all the prior records of service, he made a statement that ought to be placed in the permanent records of this Court, and I will take this occasion to do so.

"He said this:

'I think the heart of America is sound. I think the conscience of America is bright. I think the future of America is great. The thing that holds us all together is not the wording of the Constitution, but the mucilage of good will, and that is what we need at all times.'

"I know, Mr. Justice Douglas, our Brother Douglas, that I speak for all the members of the Court as well as for our retired brethren, Mr. Chief Justice Warren, Justices Reed and Clark, and former members of the Court with whom you sat, when I say that we salute you on this occasion, and wish you good health and the continued vigor that has been your trademark for all these years."

AMENDMENTS TO THE FEDERAL RULES OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE

1. That the Rules of Criminal Procedure for the United States District Courts be, and they hereby are, amended by including therein Rules 12.1, 12.2, and 29.1 and amendments to Rules 4, 9(a), 11, 12, 14, 16, 17(f), 20, 32(a), 32(c), 32(e), and 43.

2. That the amendments and additions to the Rules of Criminal Procedure shall take effect on August 1, 1974, and shall govern all criminal proceedings thereafter commenced and, insofar as just and practicable, in proceedings then pending.

3. That The Chief Justice be, and he hereby is, authorized to transmit to the Congress the amendments and additions to the Rules of Criminal Procedure in accordance with the provisions of title 18, United States Code, sections 3771 and 3772.

Mr. Justice Douglas is opposed to the Court being a mere conduit of Rules to Congress since the Court has had no hand in drafting them and has no competence to design them in keeping with the titles and spirit of the Constitution.
